Jeffrey Escobar Counsel with Haynes and Boone LLP

Mr. Escobar was honored in 2014 as a New York Rising Star in construction, and he continues to be a well-recognized member of the construction and development community, serving on the New York City Bar Association's Construction Law Committee as co-chair of its CLE Subcommittee. He has spoken at various engagements, including the New York City Bar's annual "Construction Contracts 101" and "Construction Contracts 201" series, and he has drafted leading articles including "How 'Exacting' Must an Indemnification Clause of a Contract Be to Entitle a Prevailing Party to Attorney's Fees?" (NYSBA: Inside, Fall 2011, Vol. 20, No. 2). Mr. Escobar has worked on diverse projects across the country, including construction of a professional sports stadium and the only aerial commuter tramway system in the country in New York City, to the development and construction of luxury apartment communities in Los Angeles County and the engineering of energy facilities in the Gulf of Mexico. Mr. Escobar is a committed advocate for responsible community development. He serves on New York City's Manhattan Community Board 8 as an appointed board member by the Manhattan borough president, and he chairs its Roosevelt Island-Cornell Technion Task Force tasked with the community approval and management of the construction of the Cornell Tech NYC Graduate School and campus.

Wojciech 'Voytek' Jackowski Attorney with Menaker & Herrmann

Mr. Jackowski is a partner in Menaker & Herrmann LLP. His practice focuses on commercial and corporate dispute resolution. In addition to appearing in federal and state courts and before arbitration panels and administrative panels domestically, Mr. Jackowski has experience in international aspects of litigation. He has represented entities and individuals in cases involving property loss claims, construction issues, white-collar crime, personal injury, trade and contract disputes, and claims under federal labor law. Mr. Jackowski also advises clients on international facets of litigation and dispute resolution, as well as criminal and civil facets of various international income reporting obligations. Prior to joining the firm, Mr. Jackowski was a senior assistant district attorney with the Brooklyn District Attorney's Office where he was part of the Money Laundering and Revenue Crimes Bureau and the Rackets Division. There he concentrated on the investigation and prosecution of business and securities fraud, money laundering, and corporate and individual income and sales tax evasion. He also supervised investigations relating to identification and civil forfeiture of criminally obtained assets.

Todd A. Bakal Attorney at the Law Office of Todd A. Bakal

For more than 20 years, Mr. Bakal has helped people with their business and personal legal needs. During that time, he has focused his practice in the areas of construction, environmental, and general commercial litigation as well as insurance coverage disputes. Outside of the courtroom, Mr. Bakal helps individuals and business owners with real estate, business formation and succession, regulatory work, and trust and estate planning and administration issues. He is a graduate of the University of Michigan, where he double-majored in Philosophy and Computer Science. Mr. Bakal then attended George Washington University Law School. Prior to practicing law, he founded RBI Software, Inc., which specialized in the development of commercial vertical market applications. This led to his involvement in and passion for cutting-edge computer and internet legal issues. Mr. Bakal is a member of the New York State Bar Association, the New Jersey State Bar Association, the Westchester County Bar Association, and the New York City Bar Association (where he has served on the Construction Law and Computer Law Committees), and he is admitted to the New York and New Jersey bars.

Robert Angelillo Attorney with Arkin Solbakken LLP

Mr. Angelillo is a partner at Arkin Solbakken LLP in New York City. Mr. Angelillo is an experienced commercial litigator with a diverse practice in the state and federal courts of New York and New Jersey. Mr. Angelillo has represented clients in a wide range of complex commercial matters, including representing owners, general contractors and subcontractors in both public and private project construction disputes. He has prosecuted and defended against claims for breach of contract, breach of fiduciary duty, commercial fraud, business torts, and professional liability and malpractice. Mr. Angelillo has also worked on Federal Fair Debt Collection Practices Act claims and disability benefits claims, including administrative appeals under ERISA. He has also negotiated and drafted complex commercial and construction contracts. Mr. Angelillo has written on legal matters affecting the construction industry, with articles published in New York Construction, and has lectured on construction law and litigation at numerous construction trade associations.
